Quality assurance is further enhanced through regular peer reviews that include professional bodies, the expectations as indicated by both the public and private sectors and the requirements set by the Department of Higher Education and Training (DHET), the Council on Higher Education (CHE) and the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA).

AFFORDABILITY is paramount in our contribution to lifelong learning, which in turn contributes to the development of a country such as ours. We pride ourselves that we are continuously able to meet the demand for quality education at a reasonable price.

Southern Business School’s four business principles of quality, affordability, recognition and customer service underpin all its actions. In addition, these principles provide a solid foundation for year-on-year growth in student numbers and continued improvement of the overall learning experience.

Hence the reason why initiatives supported by Southern Business School fall within the ambit of education to contribute to the improvement of the economic and socio-economic situations in southern Africa.
In an effort to truly engage with the community, Southern Business School believes that a mere philanthropic approach is not sufficient and thus our community engagement is through financial support and general support for community development projects.

Southern Business School is committed to our students. With Southern Business School’s student-centred approach, students are assured of the best possible student support in distance learning.

Student cards are available at R170 each - contact the office on for more detail.

Southern Business School's programmes make provision for the learning needs of students and student support by providing the following services:

- Interactive study guides, with application exercises that serve to reinforce and supplement prescribed textbooks, guide students through the learning process. Prescribed textbooks are the basis and primary source of information in the programmes. Study guides contain explanatory notes, assignment and self-assessment exercises designed to test the student’s knowledge and progress. Subject content, additional to the prescribed textbook(s) and references to additional reading, are also included.

- Lectures in key subjects have been recorded on DVD to assist students to comprehend subject content and snippets are available to students, such as guiding students on how to approach assessment questions in an assignment.

- Students are encouraged to use the Internet as a medium for research and use the Southern Business School library service and online sources (national and international e-journals and ebooks), such as Sabinet and EBSCO. Students also have access on specific days to Southern Business School’s library on campus. Additional resources are available to students on Google Scholar and Online Journal Catalogue Intranet Site (only accessible via MySBS) (bit.ly/SBS_Online_Journals).

- The contact details of lecturers are provided in the study guides. Students are encouraged to contact the lecturers should they have difficulties with the subject matter; whether by emailing lecturing staff with their questions or queries and/or consulting lecturers on a face-to-face basis by appointment or telephonically. As our students are spread over a wide geographical area, we aim to combine distance education techniques with personal contact where possible (such as email and MySBS).

- Assessment Tasks
  - Formative assessment tasks (assignments and/or projects) are compulsory and are designed in such a manner that they not only test the student’s theoretical understanding of the material, but also the student’s ability to apply the theory in practice.
  - Summative assessment tasks - Each subject has an examination at the end of the semester.

- Subject-specific tutorial letters provide specific feedback on formative assessments. It is also a supporting mechanism in the student’s preparation for summative assessment.

- Southern Business School provides online support through MySBS, a Google Apps for Education platform, which has been designed using sound educational principles. The platform provides each student with a Southern Business School email address - ([studentnumber]@sbs.ac.za). This accommodates effective communication with students individually, as well as in subject groups. Students are required to use their MySBS email address and not their employer’s or personal email address for communication with Southern Business School. The lecturer of the subject, who can communicate directly with all the students in his or her group, leads the subject group. In addition, each group has shared resources where students can draw from a pool of relevant documentation, such as tutorial letters, previous examination papers, articles and other valuable resources.
In addition, students are provided with free Google document creation tools, which include word processing, spreadsheet, presentation design and other software needed to complete their assignments. It is compulsory for all students who register for any qualification to have unrestricted access to a computer and the Internet.

- There is an office in Windhoek to assist our students in Namibia.
- One study week per semester is held in South Africa and Namibia respectively. The study week is an important additional student support initiative where the students also receive examination guidance. The study week allows students to ask subject related questions, discuss contentious issues and find explanations for problematic study content. Students have the opportunity to meet their lecturers and other staff members of Southern Business School in person and meet their fellow students and form study groups.
- Feedback is encouraged, not only through the various mechanisms listed above, but also through evaluation of study week presentations and lecturers, MySBS and administrative surveys conducted on MySBS.
- Our newsletter, the New Horizons is published each semester, containing news about Southern Business School, the graduation ceremonies and students’ achievements.
- Southern Business School students have access to a trained trauma counsellor and a general counsellor. Students can contact the office for details.
- Although study groups are not discouraged, the use of social media (such as WhatsApp and TELEGRAM) to facilitate teaching and learning amongst peers may be contrary to the sound academic advice given by the above-mentioned support mechanisms. Students should evaluate this type of interaction and must make sure of the validity of the content in comparison to the legitimate support mechanisms.
- Our examination venues are located countrywide in South Africa and also throughout Namibia. There are also a number of examination venues in other countries.
- Video streaming is the newest addition in Southern Business School’s efforts to reach the distance learning student. By streaming content on a familiar platform, such as Youtube™, individual students can either watch the live broadcast or watch at their own pace once the stream has begun or even once it has ended. A live chat will be open during the stream. Students will have the ability to partake in the broadcast via chat with almost any electronic device that supports internet data transfer, video and audio.

EXAMINATION VENUES

At Southern Business School we endeavour to ensure that our students’ learning experiences take place in a convenient and effective manner - no matter where they may be.

To be true to this commitment, we provide a large number of examination venues for the convenience of our students. Students have the opportunity to indicate their preferred examination venue on the registration form and also on the subject choice form.

GRADUATIONS

We honour our students every semester with a prestigious Graduation Ceremony in South Africa and in Namibia respectively.
